

Welcome to Simulation Software Limited

Worldwide Suppliers of Pipeline Management Solutions Simulation Software Limited (SSL) are a dedicated part of the Hydraulic Analysis Group that focuses on the development and supply of high performance hydraulic software solutions. We are predominantly an engineering company with substantial industry experience, supported by a very strong software programming capability. This means that we don't just deliver software, it means we fully understand your plant and pipelines' hydraulic behaviour and we can supply business focused solutions for all aspects of a pipelines' operation. Our close links with Hydraulic Analysis Ltd. provides us with instant access to a pool of experienced hydraulic engineering capability. Our simulator product developed over 40 years and utilised for over 5200 studies is integral to our solutions.